Tokyo, June 16. For the first time in eight years the Japanese Government allowed the Police to use tear gas to subdue rioting students.

The rioting was easily the worst in a series of outbreaks over the last month.

A mob of hysterical leftist students laid siege to Japan's parliament buildings for seven hours last night and early this morning. The riots brought the nation close to revolution. The harassed government finally allowed police to use tear gas to end the rioting. Police said one woman was killed and nearly 500 people a good deal of searching were injured in the rain-

This was equal to more than Hongkong could do infinitely

The Hongkong cotton dustry had acknowledged the necessity for limitation to give some measure of protection to Lancashire,

It was essential that the danger of the present situation should be realised without delay by both the United Kingdom government and the Hongkong government. Earlier in his speech Mr Harrison told members that nothing should be done to prevent the free entry into the United Kingdom cloth from any part of the world provided it was destined for re-

export. REORGANISATION

Under the reorganisation of the Lancashire industry he said the £30 million scheme would be finally judged by the prices at which Lencashire could produce and by its efficiency.

Prices are compared favourably with those quoted by other countries with a similar standard of living of Britain.

He added "to pretend that any scheme of reorganisation enable Lancashire to with low wage compete countries such as Japan, India and Hongkong is in my view delusion unless some method of manufacture as yet undreamt is invented."-Reuter.

Speaking at the Press Association's annual luncheon, he recalled that on arriving here from Australia in 1956 to take up his office, he had answered an interviewer's question of the possibility of interplanetary travel by saying it was "utter blige,"

This remark had been reported and had attracted much attention, and on the launching of the first Spuintk he had found himself regarded by those who remembered the "wisecrack" as an spoule of scientific reaction.

Dr Woolley added that when he had exclaimed "niter bilge" he had, science fiction very much in mind. But he thought today that

PEOPLE SHOCKED

The press has condemned the mobs which attacked Hagerty's car. They also suggested that the Japanese people were so shocked by the incident that the leftist groups had lost support and would not dare attack Eisenhower when he comes.

However, despite police predictions that the demonstrations would probably slack off due to lack of support, hundreds of thousands of people joined in demonstrations on Saturday, In Tokyo, between 100,000 and 150,000 people paraded around the Diet building and then marched and zig-zagged past the American Embassy.

The demonstrations, at least on the surface, have taken on an anti-American, tone due to the efforts of the Japan Communist Party, which has been participating in the campaign. It is difficult to say as yet just how widespread this latent anti-Americanism is or. just how far it might spread. However, it appears that most of the demonstrators are on the whole not anti-American - just porting the Nationalist regime which exists only on the basis of the hypothetical mainland, she has tied otherwise separate islands to the mainland, thus providing Red China a pretext for counter-

And, on the other hand, by recognising the Chiang regime as the "legitimate government of China," she has kept alive the illusion of the mainland, thus forcing the Formosans to accept the total domination of the Chinese armed minority.

Thus, our people have begun to accuse the U.S. of hypocrisy in declaring her opposition to any form of dictatorship and, at the same time, supporting the Chlang government, one of the notorious dictatorial regimes in Asia,

Yet we carnesily believe and untiringly persuade our people the true interest of the U.S. lies in Formora itself and that her support of Chiang is only temporary.

It is this belief that has kept alive our confidence in the U.S. and our hope for eventual support from her for our cause of independence.

We demand, in short, and appeal in earnest for the support of Your Excellency and the people of the United States to sponsor an immediate U.N. supervision over the island to ensure the freedom of campaign in which the voices of voiceless people of Formosa will be heard

That's nothing!

But complicated as the general electoral procedure sounds, it is nothing compared with the processes which have to be gone through to elect a president of the United States.

When a British Commonwealth country has to find a successor to a retiring prime minister, there can at most be only two or three figures in line for the job. But to get to the White House, it is not enough to have worked your way faithfully up his delegates' pledges being the slopes of the Washington pyramid, to have served in Congress or in the Cabinet and to have attracted favourable attention among your colleagues in the capital.

TWO OF A FASHION REPORT FROM THE BARDOT

here I see St. Tropez really matters

TF you want to know what the London shops will be selling in summer, 1961, there's no need to wait till the Paris collections in January: just take a look around St Tropez this summer-which is why I'm here. This is the measure of its growing importance as a fashion influence on all our wardrobes-an influence that more and more is every bit as important as Paris.

At this moment every shop in Britain has at least one, dress-or pair of shorts-or shirt-or skirt-or bikini-made of gingham; all because St Tropez was wearing gingham last year. Less strikingly, denim is making a comeback: St Tropez, took up denim at the end of last summer and is wearing it now.

The reason for this surprising importance threefold.

First, because St Tropez girls want to look pretty, dashing and original.

Secondly, because they want to be comfortable_they aren't interested in umwearable eccentricities.

Thirdly - and perhaps most important of allin St Tropez it isn't done to flaunt your money-if you have any-unlike Capri, where the more pricey, ravishing silk shirts you can add to your wardrobe the better.

Democratic

CT TROPEZ fashions are made o, for the girls who holiday there-and few of them are as rich as Brigitte Bardot.

The sweater of the moment is quite likely to be a cheap rayon one, selling for 25s.; the star fabric a 3s.-a-yard material before . . . the pants that are collar and the back finely deep boat necks and sleeves a must, a pair of faded blue pleated from a yoke. Brigitte edged with a ruff of broderic jeans. Fashlon here is more democratic than anywhere else in the world.

But apart from the major changes, St Tropez is fascinatwith even the minutiae of wide skirts in the same fabric scarves are just plain chiffon, fashion: the way you tie your which she plans to wear with but the newest print chasing out headscarf or the length of a shirt; the way in which all the girls are putting their hair up, or the size of sunglasses. Miss Gem Hoahing, the popular Hongkong-born lawn tennis player will explode a famous legend of sport next Saturday - the legend that Wimbledon's lush green tennis court is played upon only during the two weeks of the Annual Championships. For years it has been a generally accepted belief that the centre court is closed at the end of Wimbledon for fifty weeks and unused until the defending champion strikes the first ball of the following championships.

Yet on Saturday, "Little Gem" will be slamming a ball about the most famous square of the turf in England - two days before the championships begin. Miss Hoahing has been invited with three lady friends - Misses

E. Peters, C. Lister and P. Glover - to play a match there on behalf of head-groundsman Edwin Fuller.
